Subject: Hodell v. SAP

Dear Ms. Campbell,

The parties had a short conference with the Court at 2pm, and since then another issue has arisen on which we need the Court's clarification. Specifically, testimony for a number of witnesses will be presented by video deposition. For each of these witnesses, there are certain portions of their testimony that have been jointly designated. To prevent confusion and to otherwise streamline the process, SAP's view is that all clips for each particular witness should be played at once, in the order they appear in each witnesses' transcripts. Hodell disagrees. SAP would therefore appreciate the Court's input on this issue, and we are available today for another conference call if necessary.

Below is a list of the contact information for SAP's legal team.
